Jesus continues to be our source of strength during difficult times and we can only pray that he will continue to guide, strengthen, and empower us with wisdom from on high to guide his children here in the Sierra Madre Mountains. Since the drug cartels started to compete for power and land, God has seen us through so many challenges and obstacles, but nevertheless the ministry continues to move forward and the people continue to put their faith in God despite economical decline and loss of crops because the rain arrived too late. Below is one of our Sunday services for which we are so honored that God has called us to be part of advancing His Kingdom.

Roxane had the privilege of presenting these two baby boys to the Lord for which we have known both fathers since 2003.

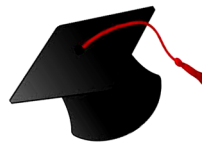

Carlos (Crystal's boyfriend) and Daniel preached at the Sundays services during Marks absence since he was sharing at different churches in AK.

Last but not least is a picture of my Sunday school children.

We couldn't be anymore prouder of Daniel! Despite the many times he struggled with his RN career, he continued to press forward and now four years later he is graduating. God thank you for blessing us with our son that has accomplished so much in his 22 years. But our greatest joy, is that through it all he remained faithful with his relation with God and never lost his faith in Him.

Crystal, Cassandra, and Daniel have completed two of their twelve months of mandatory social service that is required by law in Mexico. In order for this country to meet the great demand of medical needs to so many that have little to no money, the government deploys around 8000 medical students (with little to no pay) all over Mexico to thousands of hospitals and clinics. For this reason, Mexico is able to economically give out free health care to these places that have very limited medical resources.

Daniel and I wanting to surprise Mark before he returns from AK so we are painting one of the rooms at the back of the church. Daniel is always the designated roller while I am the blessed one that cuts in.

A beautiful complete rainbow that God placed over our church.

Giving out New Testament bibles and a change of clothing to the mothers at the hospital here in San Juanito.

Below we participated in a tent revival with about 4000 in attendance. As you can see there is no tent, for the reason being just a few hours prior to the first service a mini tornado came through and literally took the brand new tent down. Praise God there were only about 25 people under the tent and no serious injuries took place! During this four day event, the head nurse requested help from our three children to assist in any medical needs. In the pictures below, Crystal was attending to a sprain ankle and Daniel and Cassandra were checking blood pressure.
